MULTIPLE INTELLIGENCES TEACHING

CHILD-CENTERED
TEACHER-CREATED
CLASSROOM-TESTED
PARENT-INVOLVED

KINDERQUEST is a child-centered, multi-sensory, non-graded program for children 4, 5 and 6 years of age. This innovative approach teaches through music, art, games, creative play and large motor skills.

KINDERQUEST is a teacher-created, classroom tested curriculum which provides songs, games and art activities that teach letters and numbers to the young child in a positive, playful style. Play is the work of a child and this powerful tool should be extended to early school experiences.

KINDERQUEST curriculum is teacher-friendly and eliminates the hours of preparation and correcting that is the daily task of most teachers. Since the initial concept of any activity is presented as a group game, necessary practice occurs before evaluation is required. The usual repetitive workbook practice is eliminated. When mastery of the concept is necessary, it is done in game form and is then sent home where the activity can be reviewed and enjoyed between parent and child. Thus the teacher and parent become partners in the child's educational experience.

Just as walking and oral language is an exciting accomplishment for the young child, the introduction of letters and numbers can be an equally joyful experience if presented through songs, games, and group activities. The challenge of the teacher is to create a discovery-filled environment, rich in child-centered activities that will captivate the imagination of the beginning learner.

KINDERQUEST is dedicated to establishing the right of every child to learn in a style and individual time frame that assures scholastic success.

KINDERQUEST is designed to develop independent, responsible learners and inspire their innate Quest for joy-filled learning!
