

Children's Safety Resources

Parenting Inspiration Newsletters for Reducing Risk Behaviors

This series of one-page parenting newsletters explores how to keep children safe by reducing their participation in behaviors that put them at risk physically, mentally, spiritually, and emotionally.

Protecting Children in Cyberspace

This website includes pages explaining the why and how of internet safety for kids and teens. Topics include internet dangers, youth safety rules, safety tools, pornography, sexual abuse, how to report cybercrime, safety tips for kids online, etc.

How to Give Your Students the Skills to Prevent Crime

The author discusses the following safety topics: Students Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act; Stranger Safety for Smaller Children; In Case of Abduction; and Personal Safety for Older Children.

National Fire Protection Association - Education Programs

NFPA website with resources for educators. Programs include Learn not to Burn and Risk Watch, to help children learn safety. Lesson plans, Safety Source newsletter, community tool kits, and safety tips and fact sheets are some of the resources also available online.

NetSmartz Internet Safety Lessons

NetSmartz offers free, multimedia internet safety presentations you can use with your children or in your community.

A Parent's Guide to Internet Safety

Learn how to help keep your children safe on the Internet by reading A Parent's Guide to Internet Safety, published by the FBI.

JAE Editorial: Ensuring the Safety and Well-Being of God's Children

This editorial considers issues of school safety in the context of trusting God, while being prepared and preparing students to respond wisely to disasters that can and do befall schools. Articles in this issue:

Preparing for the unexpected

Can you hear me now? Psychological issues in school violence at Adventist school

What Adventist colleges are doing to ensure campus safety

How safe is your school?

Responding to crisis in the Adventist educational environment: a CISM perspective

Emergency notification systems: a next step in preparedness?

Surviving a natural disaster

Adventist Risk Management

Adventist Risk Management (ARM) provides professional risk management service in the areas of risk control consultation and education, property/casualty insurance, health care claims adjudication and personal risk services. Also, see the School self-inspection form.

Amazing Grace - A Different Perspective

Shander gives suggestions on how to protect children from molestation and ways to prevent it from happening.

Making a Difference - Preventing and Dealing with Child Abuse

Sections including recognizing the forms of child abuse, protecting the Adventist school campus (including higher education), counting the costs, putting integrity first, corporal punishment, creating a child abuse awareness culture, doing background checks, and shielding the vulnerable.

NAD State-by-State Child Abuse Reporting

Teachers in the United States can access child abuse reporting forms and procedures for all 50 states from this NAD Education webpage.

Preventing Child Sexual Abuse

Sexual abuse prevention curricula designed for use in a Christian education setting. Thirteen sessions draw on excellent secular materials and the Bible, emphasizing God's caring and a supportive community.

See these CIRCLE sections for more information:

Abuse

Bullying

Internet Safety

ECE Safety Issues

Safety

What would you add to this list? Email circle.adventist@gmail.com to add your resources to CIRCLE.