

Is Your Elementary-School Child Gifted?

Developed by the Council for Exceptional Children

Does your child have an insatiable appetite for learning? Does she seem leaps and bounds ahead of her peers? You just may have a gifted child on your hands. Take this quiz to find out.

Does your elementary-school child have:

1: Strong problem-solving abilities?

Yes

No

2: An extensive vocabulary?

Yes

No

3: A preference for older playmates?

Yes

No

4: Curiosity, especially about how things work (electrical appliances, for example).

Yes

No

5: A long attention span when interested in a topic.

Yes

No

6: An extremely sensitive or emotional response to situations and information?

Yes

No

7: Compassion for others?

Yes

No

8: A perfectionistic attitude toward projects and performance?

Yes

No

9: A vivid imagination?

Yes

No

10: A sense of humor, especially for puns and other word play.

Yes

No

11: A good memory?

Yes

No

12: A fascination with books, puzzles, or maps?

Yes

No

13: An ability to learn rapidly when engaged by a topic?

Yes

No

14: A high level of energy?

Yes

No

15: A tendency to question authority?

Yes

No

