

Interested in Frameworks?

It was with great interest that I read "Using Curriculum Frameworks to Build Faith in Secondary Students" (April-May 1992). I should like to receive a copy of these frameworks, especially on English and Personal Development.

I should also like to tell you that we read many of the articles in THE JOURNAL OF ADVENTIST EDUCATION with great interest.

Reviewing an Article

Our lecturers and administrators continue to find your magazine stimulating and interesting. It is quite a challenge to produce a magazine relevant to such a wide spectrum of educators. May the Lord guide and bless you.

The February-March 1992 edition of THE JOURNAL OF ADVENTIST EDUCATION was tremendous! Thank you for the practical emphasis on stewardship education in our schools contained in Violet Weiss' article and throughout the journal.

I am requesting 150 copies of the overrun for distribution to our teachers with a letter urging the application of the many practical suggestions in this issue regarding stewardship education. While I know our teachers have already received the issue and I assume a majority have read the articles, I simply want to convey to them my support and interest in what they are doing to develop this important aspect of spirituality in our young people.

Thank you for the excellent work done by your office. I often have the opportunity to review or read THE JOURNAL OF ADVENTIST EDUCATION and feel it makes an outstanding contribution to our ministry!
